PROJECT BOYS GANG MEMBER SENTENCED IN VIOLENT DRUG CONSPIRACY

Baltimore, MD - Thomas M. DiBiagio, United States Attorney for the District of Maryland, announced today that Kevin Glenn, age 25 of Baltimore, Maryland was sentenced today by United States District Judge J. Frederick Motz to 30 years imprisonment, followed by 5 years of supervised release after pleading guilty to conspiracy to possess and distribute cocaine, heroin and cocaine base.

According to the statement of facts, from at least 1995 and through July 2001, Glenn conspired to distribute heroin, cocaine and cocaine base (crack) in East Baltimore with a group of co-conspirators, sometimes known as the Project Boys or L.A. Boys, as most of the members were originally from the Lafayette Homes Housing Project. Glenn and his co-conspirators distributed the drugs first in the Lafayette and Douglas Housing Projects and later, from the late 1990's through July 2001, in the vicinity of Washington and Lafayette, Lafayette and Chapel and Lafayette and Castle, North Avenue and Washington, in East Baltimore, and in West Baltimore, including drug shops in the vicinity of Pennsylvania and Gold.

According to the statement of facts, in the fall of 2000 a dispute arose between the Project Boys and another east-side drug trafficking group known as the North Avenue Boys. The dispute led to a series of shootings and retaliatory shootings between the rival groups, resulting in the deaths of five people, including Keith Hamlet, a member of the North Avenue Boys killed by members of the Project Boys on November 11, 2000. To date, ten of the federally indicted Project Boys have entered guilty pleas, several of whom are still pending sentencing in federal court.

This case was investigated by federally deputized detectives from the Baltimore City Police Homicide Unit assigned to the DEA and federal agents from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives. The case is being prosecuted by Assistant United States Attorneys Andrew G.W. Norman and John F. Purcell, Jr.
